Street paving priorities set by city

By TOM KISKEN
BELLE GLADE—Nearly two miles of streets which Belle Glade commissioners prioritized as the DOT in the city are set to be paved during the upcoming fiscal year.

Commissioners, at their regular meeting Monday, Aug. 13, unanimously approved a list of nine streets to be paved using about $105,000 gained through county gas tax revenues. Streets to be paved, in order, include:

- Northwest Avenue D, from Eighth Street to Northwest 11th Street.
- Southeast Third Street, from Avenue E South to Avenue G

- Northwest Avenue G Street from North Main to Northwest Second Street
- Southeast Fourth Street, from Southeast Avenue G to Southwest Avenue K
- West Canal Street, South from Fifth Street to 8th Street
- Northwest Avenue D from 11th Street to Northwest 16th Street
- Southeast First Street, from Avenue E North to Avenue B
- Southeast Second Street South, from Avenue E to Avenue F

City Manager W.E. "Tommy" Strang said the paving would begin as soon as the contractor could get his equipment out to the city.

Each commissioner, prior to Monday's meeting, had been asked to prioritize the worst streets from a more comprehensive paving list put together by the public works department.

Commissioner Claude Tindall said finances was the main barrier facing the commission in putting together a feasible paving list. "The main question was how much we can do with X amount of dollars," he said.

Public Works Director Frank Green noted that it had been several years since the city had been able to pave any streets at all. "Anything we can do is a help," he said. Hopefully, the city will be able to continue working on the streets for a number of years, he added.

Commissioner Daniel Bythwood expressed his concern about the condition of 11th Street near Lakeside Elementary School. Bythwood said the street is constantly filled with water and poses a safety problem both to children and to motorists. Strang said that before the city could repave the street, the flooding problem would have to be corrected, adding that he is working on the problem.

In other city business, Planning and Community Development Director Remar Harvin presented commissioners with a report outlining how the city used $480,951 gained through a community development block grant sponsored by the federal government.

Crash causes splash

LAKE HARBOR—A dive for safety into a canal out of the way of an onrushing tractor trailer landed two Department of Transportation employees in Glades General Hospital with broken legs, Friday, Aug. 10.

The semi, driven by David Tarter, 25, of Dundee, interrupted a six-man DOT construction crew working on a U.S. 27 bridge, about six miles north of South Bay. Four of the men dove into a neighboring canal where they were soon joined by Tarter and his semi carrying a load of sod.

Benjamin Myer, 55, of Lake Worth, and Raymond Boyne were both rushed to Glades General Hospital. The two were the only men involved to suffer serious injuries.

Tarter was travelling on U.S. 27 alongside another semi driven by Marcus L. Lindsay, Montgomery Ala., at about 10:40 a.m. Friday, when he turned around a bend and came upon the DOT construction which had blocked off the right lane of the highway. Troopers A.O. McNeil Jr. and V.V. Lusignan said Tarter swerved to avoid a DOT truck and instead collided with a Lindsay's vehicle, Ala.

The collision jackknifed Tarter's vehicle into the construction area forcing the men to dive into the canal. Tarter's vehicle was then sent into the drink after colliding with an unmanned DOT vehicle.

Tarter was charged with careless driving. Deputy Sheriff Mario Caballo said construction signs might not have given the semi drivers ample time to respond to the upcoming construction. "Of all people to make a mistake like that," he said.

Scott Young, a passerby who witnessed the accident, said he heard the truckers complain about the signs on his CB radio. The truckers, according to Young, said, "It'd be nice to give us some warning."

About $13,000 worth of damage was caused by the accident, troopers estimated, with about $8,000 worth of guardrail damaged. Those suffering minor injuries included Charles Allen, 33, of Glades Correctional Institute; Raymond Lerdy Boyne, North Palm Beach Gardens; and Charles Franklin, 34, Glades Correctional Institute.

FOUR MEN dove into a canal to avoid on-coming truck in this accident Friday.

West side residents want road paving

By TOM KISKEN
PAHOKEE—McClure Road and other west side streets are in desperate need of repair and have been too long ignored by the Pahokee City Council, claimed a resident at the council meeting Tuesday, Aug. 21.

"What do the citizens on the west side of town have to do to get some money to get roads repaired?" asked C.R. Martin, who at one heated point in the meeting alleged racism kept the city from repairing McClure Road.

"I'll tell you why (its not paved)—its an all black neighborhood, that's why," he said.

Council members assured Martin that they were aware of the condition of McClure. Council President W.E. McKinstry said, "We'll certainly try to get something down with the road. I can't promise that it will be done, but we will try."

The initial paving plan, McKinstry said, had in the past always been a county road and as such the city had not been responsible for its maintenance. The county several months ago notified the city that several county roads were being given back to the city. The city at this point, McKinstry said, is not sure who is responsible for the maintenance of McClure and other roads.

Attorney Mike Stauder said he did not think the county could give the city roads that were in unsatisfactory condition, but rather would have to repair them first. McKinstry noted the city had never officially accepted the county roads back. "We thought our roads should be put in better shape first," he said.

Martin said a county official had told him that the county would no longer pave roads in Pahokee. However, Councilman Walt Rashley said he had been told that the county eventually plans on finishing work on McClure.

Other council members noted that the upcoming county commission election could have some effect on the road situation. District Five commission candidate Ken Adams, who attended Tuesday's meeting, assured the council he would do his best to address the problem if elected.

'10 percent' budget solution proposed

BELLE GLADE—In efforts to balance the city's $10.8 million 1984-85 budget, Mayor Thomas L. Altman came up with "The Ten Percent Solution," which will mean an increase in property taxes for home owners.

The initial budget plan turned out a $62,100 overrun following a long and exhausting session held last Wednesday, Aug. 8.

So the mayor presented his plan to commissioners the following day suggesting a 10 percent increase in taxes and user fees. He also included 23 cuts totaling $77,800 from the original budget proposal.

The increase in property taxes will mean a millage increase of .547 mills, or an increase of $27 in taxes for the year on a single-family home valued at $75,000.

Also, occupational licenses, lot mowing, green fees and golf cart rentals will be affected by the increase.

Altman also suggested the use of interest earnings from the Marina Construction Fund which he believes will add another $50,000 in interest during the budget year. The mayor also estimates there will be nearly $30,000 in accumulated interest in the fund by October 1, producing a total of $80,000 in additional revenue.

A third proposal of the new budget plan to sell two old trash trucks and a clam-bucket loader could mean an additional $9,000 in revenue, the mayor indicated.

Commissioners tentatively agreed on the budget and a public hearing scheduled Sept. 10 will be held to approve the millage increase.

But even with the proposed 10 percent property tax increase, home owners won't have to worry about an increase in water and sewer rates.

The city manager said, however, that $2.5 million of the $4.7 million budget will be spent on interest developed on bond issues.

Christian Day School to open

BELLE GLADE—Sun and fun will be replaced by books and study for a record number of Christian Day School primary and secondary students, Tuesday, Aug. 21.

Robin Waggoner said about 400 students, the largest group in Christian Day's history, are expected to answer the first bell, 8 a.m. Tuesday. "I think part of its probably natural growth, but some of it is also our improved class offerings," she said.

Among new courses offered at the school this year include computer science, life management, French and music appreciation.

Students will decide which course they will take during orientation, Monday, Aug. 20. Parents are asked to accompany their child at the orientation sometime between 2-4 p.m. or from 7-8:30 p.m.

Several new teachers are also beginning the school year at Christian Day, including Dolly Penue, first grade; Betty Jo Macy, fourth grade; Shirley Miller, K5; the Rev. James Brewer, high school business; and Ernie McCroan, high school accounting.

Police sergeant to be tried for DWI

PAHOKEE—The City Council agreed to postpone action concerning Phokos Sgt. Charles Collier, charged with drunk driving in June, until his hearing scheduled for Sept. 4.

"He's innocent until proven guilty," said Councilman Curtis Miners in recommending that council members hold off on any demotions or disciplinary action.

Council President W.E. McKinstry asked the council to consider demoting Collier to a patrolman, noting that currently the officer is being paid a sergeant's salary to do a dispatcher's job.

Council member Ada Conley said the council should wait at least three weeks before making some type of decision. If the hearing is postponed as it has been twice already, the council can then discuss other action, she said.

Police Chief Carmen Salvatore III also recommended the council postpone any decision. "The situation might even take care of itself," he said.

If Collier is allowed to resume driving a city vehicle, Salvatore said that according to the city's insurance agent, the city could be looking at an increase of as much as $15,000 in the insurance rate. Councilman Walt Rashley asked that Milton Carpenter, city

Linda Paulk to run against Mayor Altman

BELLE GLADE—Political newcomer Linda Paulk qualified Friday, Aug. 10 to run against Mayor Tom Altman for a seat on the Belle Glade City Commission.

Mrs. Paulk, of 500 N.W. 16th Street, Belle Glade, said she was running for office because she felt that it was time for a change.

"Mayor Altman has been on the commission for 10 years and nothing has changed," Paulk said. "I think it's a shame that things have stayed this way," she added.

Mrs. Paulk is currently a socialization director for the Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Center. She was born in Belle Glade and lived here until she was Glade Health Department seven years old.

She had been a social coordinator in New the campaign for Jesse Jersey. She served Jackson and is a with the task force for member of the Gov. Ella Grasso of Democratic Executive Connecticut and was Committee and the on a drug and alcohol Black Coalition.

Police warn of counterfeit bills

BELLE GLADE Police warn area businessmen to be on the lookout for counterfeit $50 bills.

Lt. Louis L. Lowery said one phony bill had been passed at a local bank, on Friday, Aug. 10. The bill contained several telltale signs.

Lowery said, including:

- Serial number F83025439A
- El appears in the upper left hand corner on the face of the bill

Lowery said, including:

- The series of the bill which appears on its face is 1977
- The number 71 is on the reverse side of the bill just left of center is the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco

- The paper as well as the ink is of poor quality. Pale ink is used on the reverse side of the bill.

Lowery asked anyone with information about the counterfeit bills to contact police. While merchants should try to obtain an accurate description of the person passing any suspect bills, no attempts should be made to apprehend anyone, he stressed.

Inmate captured with help of citizens

BELLE GLADE Three area residents helped recapture and rescue one of two GCI inmates who attempted to walk off from a work crew, Friday morning, Aug. 17. Both men were recaptured within 20 minutes of the break.

Reportedly, Norman Pone, 2343 Becom

Point Road, Pahokee, and Mike Mixson, of Canal Point, jumped into a canal off of SR 715 just outside of Belle Glade and rescued an inmate floundering in the canal. The two residents along with William Thigpen, of Circle Drive, Pahokee, had assisted GCI of-ticers by keeping visual surveillance on the inmate.

Lt. Leo Peters, GCI investigator, said both inmates disappeared from a crew working at the orange grove between the institute and SR 715 during a lunch break. "Basically what happened is they just slipped out of their work squad," he said.

The inmates were sighted off SR 715 by Jerry Arline, former assistant superintendent at GCI, who just happened to be driving down the road, Peters said, adding the inmates "were nonchalantly proceeding toward town."

"Arline got out of his car and pursued the inmates on foot. Peters said Ellis disappeared into a cane field. Simons continued along SR 715 and somehow ended up in the canal apparently unable to swim and was eventually rescued by Mixson and Pope.

Arline, Sgt. Ricky Hayes and Sgt. Wayne Riddleberger all converged on the scene at the canal and ap-was attempting to rejoin the party without being noticed, Peters speculated.

Both men were turned over to the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Hospital gets CT scan device

BELLE GLADE General Hospital has entered a new field of x-ray technology with the addition of Computed Tomography (CT) scanning to its list of diagnostic services.

CT scans, commonly called CAT scans, enable physicians to obtain computer enhanced cross-sectional x-rays of the body. They are particularly useful in diagnosing tumors and other abnormal growths in the body.

The capability comes as a result of a contract with Trans Mobile Nuclear of Altamonte Springs, which enables the hospital to schedule the services of a mobile CT scan unit every Monday and Friday.

Trans Mobile technicians perform the scans

in a specially equipped semi-trailer. The unit is totally self contained, including power supply, patient examination room, control room, and staff room. Two computer consoles enable technicians to continue while a physician examines the images from a previous scan.

Scheduling for the mobile scanner is handled through

Glades General's Radiology Department. Hospital radiologists (physicians specializing in reading x-rays) provide interpretations of the scans.

Patients previously needing CT scans to aid in diagnosing an illness had to be sent to a hospital on the coast, a procedure which prolonged a patient's hospital stay.

CT scan technicians Bob Bowen and Sylvia Gaffney demonstrate how their mobile X-ray machine works at Glades General Hospital Monday, Aug. 13.

Burglary arrest made in Pahokee

PAHOKEE Police made four arrests this week in the burglary of the Circle S Pharmacy, 146 W. Fourth St., which occurred on July 22.

Patrolman Dennis McIntosh said that thanks to information from confidential informants, John Maney, 19, of 171 Booker Place, was arrested on Thursday, Aug. 9 and charged with burglary, dealing with stolen property and possession of stolen property.

Three others were arrested Friday, Aug. 10. Jimmy Lee Rushing, 21, Belle Glade, was charged with burglary and grand theft. Freddie Butler, 32, of Belle Glade and Louis Baker were both charged with dealing in stolen property.

McIntosh said Maney and Rushing allegedly threw stones through the window of the pharmacy the night of July 22 and stole chains and pendants worth about $2,000. Butler and Baker are charged with buying some of the stolen goods.

While some of the stolen goods have been recovered, some is still unaccounted for, McIntosh said, adding that he expected more arrests in the case.

McIntosh noted that Sheriff's Detective Paul Copeland, of the Glades Sub Station, worked the case together with Pahokee police. "Without their cooperation I don't think we would have made these arrests," he said, adding that the Belle Glade Police Department also helped out.

Pension board meeting set

BELLE GLADE The city expects to receive some 700 coconut palm seeds later this month from the state.

City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said the state was offering the seeds free of charge. The city will germinate and plant the palms itself.

"Hopefully, in a few years, we'll have a bunch of palm trees around the city," he said, noting the about 90 percent or more than 600 of the seeds should produce trees.

subject to Attorney John Baker's review of the contract between the chamber and the Bazaar.

Chamber President Israel Baez, noting the chamber's current financial straits, said that the advertising revenue would probably not help this year; it could provide needed revenue for the following year if the works out of this could really help us," he said.

The chamber would gain about $1000 annually from the benches distributed by Baez, said the chamber expects to make anywhere from $3,000 to $10,000 a year.

Baez said the city would determine where benches would be placed. He said he hoped most of the benches would be located at school bus and Co-Trans stops. City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang indicated he would work to get benches in locations the benches.

Mayor Thomas Altman said he was glad to see the chamber taking the advertising effort. "I think this is a good idea and I'd like to see the commission support it," he said.

Baker said he would revise the contract with the approval of both parties to give the chamber a 90-day cancellation option. With 90 days warning the chamber would be able to cancel the contract. The Baron Group from selling any new advertising, although Baron would have the right to fulfill any existing contracts with advertisers.

Baez said ads will be sold and benches will be distributed as soon as the final agreement is approved by Bakers and signed by both parties. Local merchants will be given first crack at advertising on the benches, he added. Chamber members will be eligible for a special advertising discount for the first 60 days after the benches are installed. Those interested in advertising on the benches can contact the chamber.

Police warn of counterfeit bills

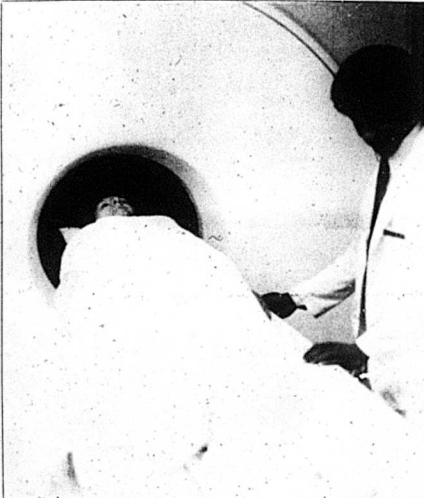

BELLE GLADE Police warn area businessmen to be on the lookout for counterfeit $50 bills. Lt. Louis L. Lowery said one phony bill had been passed at a local bank, on Friday, Aug. 10. The bill contained several telltale signs, Lowery said, including:

- Serial number F83025439A
- El appears in the upper left hand corner on the face of the bill
- The series of the bill which appears on its face is 1977
- The number 71 is on the reverse side of the bill

•The paper as well as the ink is of poor quality. Pale ink is used on the reverse side of the bill.

Lowery asked anyone with any information about the counterfeit bills to contact police. While merchants should try to obtain an accurate description of the person passing any suspect bills, no attempts should be made to apprehend anyone, he stressed.

CT scan technicians Bob Bowen and Sylvia Gaffney demonstrate how their mobile X-ray machine works at Glades General Hospital Monday, Aug. 13.

Hospital gets CT scan device

BELLE GLADE Glades General Hospital has entered a new field of x-ray technology with the addition of Computed Tomography (CT) scanning to its list of diagnostic services.

CT scans, commonly called CAT scans, enable physicians to obtain computer enhanced cross-sectional x-rays of the body. They are particularly useful in diagnosing tumors and other abnormal growths in the body.

The capability comes as a result of a contract with Trans Mobile Nuclear of Altamonte Springs, which enables the hospital to schedule the services of a mobile CT scan unit every Monday and Friday.

Trans Mobile technicians perform the scans

in a specially equipped semi-trailer. The unit is totally self contained, including power supply, patient examination room, control room, and film room.

Two computer consoles enable technicians to continue with procedures while a physician examines the images from a previous scan.

Scheduling for the mobile scanner is handled through

Burglary arrest made in Pahokee

PAHOKEE Police made four arrests this week in the burglary of the Circle S Pharmacy, 146 W. Fourth St., which occurred on July 22.

Patrolman Dennis McIntosh said that thanks to information from confidential informants, John Maney, 19, of 171 Booker Place, was arrested on Thursday, Aug. 9 and charged with burglary, dealing with stolen property and possession of stolen property.

Three others were arrested Friday, Aug. 10. Jimmy Lee Rushing, 21, Belle Glade, was charged with burglary and grand theft. Freddie Butler, 32, of Belle Glade and Louis Baker were both charged with dealing in stolen property.

McIntosh said Maney and Rushing allegedly threw stones through the window of the pharmacy the night of July 22 and stole chains and pendants worth about $2,000. Butler and Baker are charged with buying some of the stolen goods.

While some of the stolen goods have been recovered, some is still unaccounted for, McIntosh said, adding that he expected more arrests in the case.

McIntosh noted that Sheriff's Detective Paul Copeland, of the Glades Sub Station, worked the case together with Pahokee police. "Without their cooperation I don't think we would have made these arrests," he said, adding that the Belle Glade Police Department also helped out.

What a difference crime makes

Editor:

Seven years ago, I chose to live in Belle Glade... a "rural neighborhood" populated by churches and espousing "brotherly love".

I've had my car pilfered two times in midday, and had two major items stolen from my carport on different occasions. Then, six weeks ago, Crime Watch signs were posted throughout my neighborhood (two, on the edges of my property) - an area well lighted, generously populated with dogs, where most homes (except mine) are air conditioned and, closed tight against "friend and foe".

Four weeks ago, my car was broken into in my carport. Last Sunday night, as we watched the Olympics on T.V., someone broke in to the upstairs and stole whatever was handy. The police arrived promptly, but the burglar is still out there somewhere.

News media on all sides pleads "love one another", and suggests endless techniques to achieve unity, trust, concern for fellow man. Today, I continually think about locking doors, tightening windows, questioning shadows. I listen for sounds and wonder what is next. I have nothing of great material value to protect, except myself. Where now is the sense of trust, sharing, concern for this community?

In what direction are we moving?

Name withheld by request.

Impressed with BG Chamber

Editor:

A recent newspaper article stated that the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce may have to "close its doors". That should not be allowed to happen.

For the past month I have been calling on the chamber of commerce and civic clubs throughout South Florida. Well do I remember driving into Belle Glade two weeks ago, not knowing what to expect and somewhat skeptical of some of now old and bad publicity from the past.

You have no idea how impressed I was with the Chamber of Commerce building. It was the most attractive and modern Chamber I had seen. That day I had the privilege of presenting a civic fund raising program for Jewell Crane, the executive secretary, Israel Baez, the president, and Bob Raessler, the vice-president of the Chamber. I left that afternoon with a very positive impression of Belle Glade through its Chamber of Commerce and have the identical to expect and somewhat skeptical of some of now old and bad publicity from the past.

It is unthinkable that the community will allow such a positive institution to be closed. I don't think they will - let's hope

In response, it was the most attractive and modern Ft. Pierce, FL

Old dead cowboys

A TV repairman was awhile, a six-year old in a home trying to locate the trouble in a television set. After watching quietly for might work."

Not a bad idea. When old dead cowboys are allowed to clutter up the bottom of our set, the picture is never quite clear. Or to put it another way, Paul said "forgetting the past and looking forward to what lies ahead." I strain to reach the end of the race and receive the prize for which God is calling us up to heaven because of what Christ Jesus did for us." (Philippians 3:13-14 Living Bible).

The old dead cowboys of past failures, already forgiven but not yet forgotten sins, regrets that haunt us - they keep our eyes off Jesus. It's time to forget the past and look to the challenges, opportunities and promises God has for us in the present and future.

GOD BURIED OUR SINS IN THE DEEPEST SEA, AND PUT UP A NO FISHING SIGN.

Turner retires as GCI superintendent, takes new job

BELLE GLADE Retired "Machine Gun" Turner may be returned as superintendent of the Glades Correctional Institute, but he's not abandoning the prison system altogether.

Turner didn't even get a day's rest from the 30-year service he committed to the State's prison system, instead he started working as a civilian, with an organization called P.R.I.D.E., Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises.

"I retired Tuesday (July 31) with the State of Florida and transferred to P.R.I.D.E. on Wednesday as the southern regional manager to operate what we call prison industries," Turner said.

And even though Turner has some bitter feelings about the legal system and his experiences dealing with it, he feels his work with P.R.I.D.E. may help to correct some of the problems.

"Our purpose is to provide work for the inmates so they can get a job when they leave prison," Turner said. "We are trying to make an effort to employ one-third of the prisoners within P.R.I.D.E. industries."

Turner said on a statewide average the prison system traditionally employs about 8 percent of the inmates, he did say that the Belle Glade facility is the only facility in Florida that employs more than one-third during the growing season.

P.R.I.D.E. was formed by the legislature in 1981 as a private corporation to operate industrial programs which has since become a conglomerate of several industries.

Belle Glade alone has operating industries which include a janitorial maintenance products factory, a large canning plant, a meat processing and fabrication plant, a large vegetable farm and 3000 acres of sugar cane.

"There was and had been a need to release the industries from government restrictions," Turner said. "There was no flexibility in the government's normal business operations. P.R.I.D.E. was formed so we could operate these industries in a more efficient manner - to operate more as a business."

The former GCI superintendent said the industries, although part of the private sector, can only sell its products to government agencies. But he said this can be a substantial savings for the city.

"We can furnish to these government agencies something less expensive than what they normally would buy. We sell to Belle Glade and that saves the city money," Turner said.

In other parts of the state, P.R.I.D.E. operates a tire recapping plant which services the Department of Transportation.

It also runs cattle and swine stockyards, an aquaculture industry (to raise fish), an eyeglass manufacturing factory and a furniture refinishing plant.

"We are profit-making, but only to the extent of needing money to expand the organization's program," Turner said.

He said he intends to work to expand the program, "simply to provide more work for the men in the system."

Turner said he has no regrets about retiring because he will be working for changes in the prison system as a civilian.

"This will give me the opportunity to do something good for the government, maybe something that will accomplish something that the prison system has been trying to do for a very long time," Turner said. "It is absolutely necessary to have work for the men to do and I hope to turn the work into something productive."

"Perhaps to have some people trained to have an occupation when they get out."

Turner said he served on the Board of Directors of P.R.I.D.E. for two successive terms from 1981 to 1983.

"When they (P.R.I.D.E. directors) found I was retiring, they expressed an interest in me coming on in a managerial position," he said.

The position proved to be right in line with Turner's background. He received a degree in management from Barry University in Miami and worked for the Standard Oil Company in Jacksonville as an accountant.

Turner said he was drafted into the Infantry of the Korean War shortly after starting at Standard Oil and when he returned he took a job at Raiford State Prison.

"When I came out of the Korean War I decided to work out there (Raiford) to make up my mind in what I wanted to do," he said.

That was in 1953, and by 1971 Turner quit and worked as a vice president for a water and sewage manufacturing firm until the recession forced the company to close its doors in 1974. He left the prison system following a riot that broke out in Raiford.

Nearly 1500 inmates started a riot that lasted for almost a week until Turner brought a stop to it.

"I fell my lot to have to deal with that riot, so we opened fire on the prisoners and 64 were wounded," he said, adding, "There was no property damage and no one died or was seriously injured."

Turner said he was suspended from duty for 30 days by Governor Reubin Askew for using "excessive force."

This is also the time Turner was given the title "Machine Gun" Turner.

Turner appealed the suspension and was restored to duty, but his stay was short lived.

"I was so ticked off at the system and that's why I left," he said.

But in 1974, he was asked to come back as business manager for the Glades Correctional Institute.

He jumped from this position to assistant superintendent and then finally superintendent.

Turner said he won't miss anything but the people.

"I'm just extremely tired of that line of work brought on by the pure strain of the operation," he said. "It is a very stressful occupation."

"I have had a telephone hooked up to the prison next to my bed for the past 17 years and I have never had good news come over that phone," he said.

Between the emergency phone calls and the unending law suits filed by inmates Turner said, "I simply don't want to do that anymore."

Turner said inmates have access to a $20,000 law library in the prison and nearly two suits a week were filed while he worked there.

"Most of the lawsuits were of an extremely frivolous nature," he said. "I have no quarrel for an inmate to protest his sentence, but I do have extreme disapproval that they are allowed to file a suit just because they want to grow a beard."

Turner said he remembered one case where an inmate said he was a member of the Ethiopian Zion Coptic Church and claimed he was not allowed to shave.

"We make them shave so we can identify them," he said.

Turner said the pressure was placed on him because he was generally the target for most of the suits.

"In all cases the suits are filed against the Secretary of the Department and the superintendent of the facility and we can be held in contempt of court," he said. "That is the number one reason why I said this is enough of that foolishness."

Turner said the primary operational problem within the prison system is the "difficulty in getting our officers looked at in the same guise as other services, particularly in salary."

He said prison guards have the same qualifications as other law enforcement personnel, but they are paid "one full step less than other state law officers."

"On a university campus the officers have the arduous task of passing out parking tickets and our officers are paid less than these officers," Turner said.

But aside from the frustrations, Turner did admit the job was exciting.

"The prison business is an exciting line of work. There has never been two days in a row that were the same," he said.

But Turner also said, "I would like to tell you it is a rewarding experience to see changes from the rehabilitative programs, but that is hogwash."

Turner said to see a significant change takes "discipline in the environment."

"We do occasionally have a fellow who was hell on wheels, but by holding his nose to the grindstone we can come out with someone who is a heck of a lot better going out than when he came in."

Informational Scout meeting set

An informational meeting for adults currently involved with Glades District Boy Scouts or those interested in becoming involved is slated for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 23, at the Community United Methodist Church, 401 S.W. First St., Belle Glade.

Lowell White, Glades District scout executive, said scouts from LaBelle, Clewiston, Moore Haven, Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay should attend the meeting. Cubmasters, scoutmasters, den

Social Security applicants need ID

Nearly everyone in the Glades area who applies for a Social Security number remembers to bring evidence of age and citizenship, but some forget to bring evidence of identity. Loretta Rentfro, Social Security manager in Belle Glade, said recently,

"Evidence of identity is always required before the Social Security number can be assigned, no matter how young the person is. Rentfro said, "This rule applies to infants and small children as well as adults."

A person applying for a Social Security number usually needs at least 2 pieces of evidence: one to establish age and citizenship and the other to establish identity.

The best evidence of age and citizenship is a public birth certificate established before a person's 5th birthday which was issued by a U.S. State or local government. Of course, Rentfro said, a foreign born person needs the appropriate immigration or naturalization records as well.

Some people find it difficult to find evidence of identity for infants or young children, Rentfro said.

Examples of documents that can be used include vaccination certificates; newspaper birth announcement; day care or nursery school record; adoption record; or doctor, clinic, or hospital record.

Older children can use school records, membership in Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts or other youth organization, report cards, ID card, or welfare case record.

In fact, Rentfro said, any document that gives enough identifying data to establish proper identity can be used.

Parents who apply for a Social Security number for a child must also provide evidence of their own identity in addition to the required evidence for the child.

Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used. Uncertified or notarized photocopies are not acceptable.

McClure Road, Martin said, is easily one of the worst roads in the Glades and also one of the most used. He noted that the city has been paving other streets that are not nearly as important.

Other roads formerly maintained by the county include parts of Barfield Highway, Bay Bottom Road, Larrimore Road, Hardin Avenue, Rim Canal Road, Rock Pit Road, Stuckey Road and Wilder Road.

In a related issue, McKinsty said the council should make formal decisions on which roads should be paved and in which order. He noted that Parkview Street paved without council discussion. Public Works Director Richard Mount pointed out that Parkview was in the line on the city's priority list.

In other city business at Tuesday's meeting: The council agreed that all clerks in city hall, including those paid out of the water department budget, are under the authority of City Clerk Betty McCoy, rather than Assistant Utilities Director Ed Balmer. Council members agreed that only one boss is needed in city hall. Both McCoy and Balmer had asked for direction from the council concerning the clerks.

McCoy noted that three clerks paid out of the water budget are quitting and need to be replaced. She noted that several other clerks were threatening to leave when they discovered that the new clerks were being offered a starting salary of $200 a week from the utilities department, substantially more than current salaries. The council indicated McCoy could revise this starting salary and she said she would cut it somewhat.

The council, in a 4-1 vote, approved a pair of ordinances which nullify the county's new cooling off handgun law. McKinsty voted against the ordinances, noting that he was in favor of some type of waiting period for people obtaining guns.

Rashley said he would continue to investigate the utilities situation at the city marina. The city is looking at ways to install separate meters at the marina so that the William Joiner, operator of the concession stand, can be billed for electricity and water. Balmer told council members that it might be less expensive to just bill Joiner the minimum monthly water amount rather than installing a new meter. "It's just a maze of pipes going every which way down there," he noted.

The council asked Balmer and Engineer Jim Suddarth to make a recommendation at the next meeting on the possibility of adding polymer to the city's water system. The polymer could make a difference in the quality and appearance of the water, Balmer said.

An adjourned council meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 21, at 7 p.m. of the Prince Theater Committee is scheduled for Monday, at 7 p.m. at the theater.

Robbery suspect sought

BELLE GLADE: Police are searching for a man suspected of stealing a $300 bike, Tuesday night, Aug. 14.

Detective John Carney said police are looking for Donald Leon Gibson, 26, of Pahokee. He is black, about 5-foot-11, 170 pounds, and was last seen Tuesday night wearing green shorts and no shirt.

Carney said the mother of Ron Jackson, of 517 S.W. Seventh St., reported at 8 p.m. that her son's bike was stolen off her porch by a black male, believed to be Gibson.

Police pursued a suspect from Airport Road to S.W. Ave. E, but were unable to apprehend the man. Anyone with information about the suspect is asked to contact police at 996-7251.

$173 million in coke seized

By JEFF BATER: Glades County deputies seized $173 million worth of cocaine - about 619 pounds - early Wednesday morning, Aug. 15 near Myers.

No arrests have yet been made. According to Sheriff Russell Henderson, Deputy John Brock happened upon the loading operation on LaBelle Grade after hearing aircraft in the area.

Spotting four men loading bundles from a twin engine Cessna 414 into a Hughes 500 Jet Chopper, Hughes approached and flashed his headlights. The four men jumped into the chopper and flew at the deputy. He got off four shots with a 12 gauge shotgun, said Henderson.

The helicopter was later found at Page Field, Fort Myers. It had been hit at least once. The fuel tank was leaking.

Law enforcement officers are now searching for suspects, checking motels in the Fort Myers area.

Henderson expects arrests to be made. Among the items the smugglers left behind was a suitcase containing at least one passport.

Agents for the Drug Enforcement Administration took possession of the cocaine about 8:30 a.m.

Wednesday for safekeeping. The cocaine is believed to have been produced in Colombia.

In April, Glades deputies seized 714 pounds of cocaine worth $200 million, the largest seizure to date. One man was arrested at the scene and three more Tuesday, Aug. 14.

The garden club donated the plants and helped the students with the work under the direction of Adult Training Services Supervisor Anton Manley.

DWI schools making a difference

Florida's Driver Improvement Schools are responsible for a significant reduction in DWI and traffic offenses by convicted drunken drivers and drivers with point system suspensions, according to an evaluation study recently conducted.

In a report released by the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, the driving records of all 21,279 convicted drunken drivers who completed Florida's DWI schools during 1980 were reviewed.

Their driving offenses for three years before the DWI course was compared with the three years after the course. The report showed that there was an 81 percent reduction in drinking offenses statewide, with up to 88 percent reduction in some areas. Prior to the DWI school program, according to Driver Improvement Bureau records, the reduction rate statewide was only 67 percent.

The Southwest Florida Safety Council, representing Hendry, Glades, Lee, Charlotte, Sarasota, Manatee, Collier, Highlands, DeSoto and Hardee Counties, showed a 61 percent decrease in convictions. The report showed that of 17,000 persons who completed the advanced Driver Improvement school during 1980, there was a 61 percent reduction in traffic violations.

Cash up to 67 percent in some areas. "These findings indicate a sizeable reduction in the repeat rates by these two problem categories of drivers, our drunken drivers and our habitual traffic law violators, and reflects very favorably on our Driver Improvement programs in Florida," according to Robert A. Butterworth, Executive Director of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

Butterworth credited "the DWI and the driver improvement school staffs, Florida's county court judges, the legislators, and the law enforcement agencies in the State for making the program possible - and so effective in rehabilitating our problem drivers."

Both the DWI schools and Advanced Driver Improvement courses are taught statewide by various non-profit organizations, such as safety councils, junior colleges, mental health groups, etc. The students are required to pay an enrollment fee for the courses, ranging from $50.00 to $130.00, which pays for all operating costs of the school with no costs to Florida's taxpayers. Florida law required completion of the appropriate driver improvement or alcohol education course for anyone convicted of DWI, or suspended for reinstatement of their driver license.
